ASSOCIAÇÃO BRASILEIRA DE CIÊNCIA
ECOLÓGICA E CONSERVAÇÃO

ABECO, the Brazilian Association for Ecological Science and Conservation, was initiated in 2008 to assemble professionals engaged in the production and application of ecological science in Brazil – researchers, academics, and students. ABECO intends to promote the production and public understanding of scientific research of ecology at a high standard, and also to represent professional ecologists, and the knowledge they produce, within Brazilian society as well as internationally.
